The bronze statue of Jefferson Davis, first and only President of the Confederate States of America ,was unveiled in Richmond yesterday with a magnificent parade participated in by thousands of Confederate Veterans and with impressive ceremonies which typify the devotion of the outhern people to their President; Mrs. Hayes, daughter of President Davis, pulled the cord, and was assisted by the grandchildren of Mr. Davis; the monument reaches a height of sixty-five feet. ——Hon. William J. Bryan on Sunday delivered a Y. M. C. A. address to a tremendous audience in Richmond Sunday afternoon; last night Mr. Bryan lectured for the Y. M. C. A., his subject being "The Old World and Its Ways."—In Washington yesterday Mr. W. N. Mitchell, of Atlanta, president of the Georgia Commission to the Jamestown Exposition, presented to President Roosevelt, a unique souvenir of Georgia Day, June 10th, at Jamestown, when the President is to be the orator of the day; it is a solid gold plate handsomely engraved and valued at $400, the gold having been taken from a mine near the home of the President's mother in Georgia.——The jury in the case of W. A Philadelphian's wife who ran a boarding house got a divorce from him but he courted her again and they are to have a June wedding. Evidently that man knows on what side his bread is buttered.

Now comes a British scientist to declare that "we do not laugh enough and should laugh more." Let everybody get ready to laugh at the idea that the Republican party will ever revise the tariff in favor of the people.

The Hon. William J. Bryan declared in Richmond on Sunday that President Roosevelt is "not consistently Democratic nor consistently Republican." This makes the President eligible as Past Master of Mugwumps.

A widow at Janesville, Wis., got the undertaker to leave out her dead husband's teeth, as her second husband might need them. If husband number 2 will wear them, she might cast it into his teeth some day when they chew the rag.

Says the Hon. Wm. J. Bryan's Commoner: "Senator Foraker seems to be up against the fact that he has dug up entirely too much proof in that Brownsville case." It couldn't have helped Taft's boom any more than if Foraker had written a book.

In an interview in Richmond on Sunday night Hon. William J. Bryan told a Times-Dispatch interviewer that President Roosevelt is "neither wholly a Democrat nor wholly a Republican." Col. Bryan can't dispute the fact, however, that the President is a holy terror to the Wall Streeters.

At Richmond on Saturday the Confederate Veterans sat down on the proposition of the Daughters of the Confederacy to discontinue the custom of having sponsors at the reunions. Thus the Daughters would do away with the prettiest part of the reunoins, but not so with the veterans, who still have "a good eye."

Governor Frantz, of Oklahoma, does not like the new constitution of that State, and says if he were Roosevelt he would refuse to let the new State come into the Union on it. Frantz is a Republican, who was appointed Governor of a Democratic Territory by President Roosevelt. Democrats made the new constitution, and when it goes into effect Frantz will have no job. Hence those tears.

The Star is glad to notice considerable improvement among the county papers throughout North Carolina. Among those papers which are moving to the front is the Pender Chronicle, which is now under the management of Mr. A. B. Croom, Jr. The Chronicle recently announced its new policy, and is giving evidence that it will be one of the best county papers in the State. It is a credit to Pender county and her people should see that Manager Croom gets every possible encouragement in his efforts to give them a paper worthy of the county.

AFFAIRS OF COUNTY

Commissioners in Regular Monthly Session at Court House Yesterday Afternoon.

PARK SITE IS OFFERED

Grounds to South of Building Will Be Used—Red Men to Give Another Carnival—Monthly Reports. Township Supervisors.

The Board of County Commissioners was in regular monthly session yesterday afternoon, members present having been Chairman McEeachern and Messrs. Robertson, Divine and Vollers.

Messrs. W. A. Lineker and Martin Schnibben appeared before the Board with reference to public road leading from the Castle Haynes turnpike to Wrightsboro. The matter was referred to the Board as a committee of the whole to visit the site if necessary and determine the matter. The acceptance of the Castle Hayne road as constructed by the Carolina Trucking Development Company through its property near Castle Haynes was referred to the same committee.

Alderman W. A. French, Jr., appeared before the Board and asked the county for the joint use with the city of the grounds on the south side of the Court House as a park for excursionists and play ground for children, the two governments to bear the expense of maintenance and policing jointly. The matter was referred to the Building Committee, of which Mr. H. L. Vollers is the chairman. The Board informally discussed the proposition with favor.

Through a committee composed of Meesrs. Sol Sternberger, W. L. West, A. H. Weedon, W. L. Burkheimer and A. M. Hewitt, Eyota Tribe of Red Men was granted exemption of taxes on a proposed carnival for charitable purposes to be held during the month of August, September or October, the Board taking the position that it had nothing to do with the location of the fair or the streets of the city.

The Register of Deeds reported 27 marriage licenses issued during May, and exhibited receipt from the Treasurer for revenue arising therefrom. The Clerk of the Superior Court reported the collection of $25 and payment to the school funds as charter fee from the Hanover Building and Loan Association.

Supt. J. R. Hardee, of the County Home, reported 4 white and 13 colored patients and 2 white and 21 colored convicts, in his custody during the month. The Superintendent of Health reported 91 patients treated in the office and 17 visits to patients at their homes during the month. Nine cases of smallpox occurred in the county during the month. The county institutions were reported all in good sanitary condition. One convict died in the hospital and one at the camp, both of tubercular diseases, during the month. Supt. H. Hocutt reported having received and used 15 cars of Castle Haynes rock during the month. The work of straightening, ditching and throwing up the new Greenville road is now in progress. The Castle Haynes road has been repaired from Castle Haynes to the city limits.

Bonds of township road supervisors in the sum of $500 each were received as follows: Wm. Gregersen, Cape Fear township, and C. E. Carney, Harnett township, each with the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, of Baltimore.

The chairman stated that according to the law the Board was required to make the tax levy at the June meeting, but as the official reports from the assessors are not yet in, the levy of last year was adopted, subject to reduction if the reports of the appraisers will so warrant. The chairman stated that he had no idea but that a reduction could be made. The rate last year was 78 cents on the $100, and $1.05 on the poll.

A communication was read from the Chamber of Commerce and Mayor of Rocky Mount, the Kinston Chamber of Commerce ,and Prof. J. Harry Howell, of Washington, asking endorsement of their bids for the location of the training school to be established by the State. The Board desired to make no endorsement in the matter, and the clerk was asked to acknowledge receipt of the communications.

The County Attorney reported collection of $215.14 net back taxes during May.

Bid for feeding county live stock was awarded to the B. F. Mitchell Company at 80 cents for corn and $27 per ton for hay.

The revision of the jury list was taken up as required by law and the Board adjourned with this work in hand.

Man Who Held Policemen at Bay Sent to Roads and Will Be Tried in Superior Court—Twenty-five Cases, All Told.

Mayor Springer had a busy session of the municipal court yesterday, disposing of twenty-five cases at noon. The most important was that of Geo. Roderick, white, who raised such a disturbance on Queen street, between Front and Second, Saturday afternoon. He was tried on five charges, assault with a dealy weapon, resisting an officer, firing a gun in the city limits, disorderly conduct and being drunk. On the first two charges he was bound over to the higher court in a $50 bond in each case, and he was given 30 days on the county roads for each of the other three offenses. His mother, Mrs. Caledonia Roderick was dismissed from the charge of interfering with the officers. Roderick made no statement at the trial and was not represented by counsel.

Other cases disposed of were: Lula Alderman, affray at Seventh and Nixon streets, county farm for 30 days. Davie Farris, participating in same affray, fined $10 and costs. Annie Williams and Amanda Norman, affray at Fourth and Swann streets. The first mentioned was fined $5 and costs and the other was sent to the county farm for 30 days. Chas. H. Davis, colored, for an assault on Willie Perry, was fined $5 and the costs.

John Haretos, a Greek, and his clerk, Harry Dedusi, who keeps the new confectionery store on Princess between Front and Second streets, were charged with selling goods on Sunday. Haretus was fined $10 and costs, and his clerk paid $5 and costs.

George Douglas, charged with disorderly conduct at Sixth and Howard streets was let off with the costs. Arthur Macks, colored, for an affray at Second and Castle streets, was fined $5 and costs. Josh Payne, alias "Knotty," for an affray on Princess, between Front and Second was let off with the costs. "Knotty" did not fight when a colored boy employed at the Southern Pressing Club called him "Mr. Van Hardin's bull dog" but when he applied a more vile epithet the two went together.

Jas. Nixon and Theodore Phifer, colored, charged with riding a bicycle too fast were let off with the costs. They were also charged with not having a bell on their bicycles but judgment was suspended in both cases. John Redd, white, charged with being drunk and down, was fined $5 and costs and warned. J. W. Murry, white, for trotting his team around a corner at Second and Market, was taxed with the costs. R. H. Mitchell, colored, a drunk, was let off with the costs.

Laurence Small, colored, for being drunk and down was taxed with the costs. William Wright, for wheel speeding, was fined $5 and the costs.

CONTEMPT HEARING

Interesting Colloquy Beteen Attorney and Witness in Matter Before The Court.

DECISION ANNOUNCED LATER

"Passage at Arms" Between Mr. Cox and Hon. John D. Bellamy in the Trial Yesterday — Evidence Taken in Shorthand.

A heated colloquy between Hon. John D. Bellamy, counsel for the defendant, and Deputy Sheriff W. H. Cox, who made the complaint in the case, was the feature of the hearing of the contempt rule served a few days ago upon Manager J. T. North, of the Postal Telegraph Company, who was charged with having obstructed a process of the court. After hearing all the testimony, by affidavit and verbally, the latter having been taken in shorthand by Miss Shrier, Judge Long announced after the hearing of an hour or more, that he would reserve his judgment until he has had opportunity of looking over a transcript of the testimony.

The colloquy between Deputy Sheriff Cox and Mr. Bellamy was amusing. Mr. George Rountree appeared for Mr. Cox as a friend, and perhaps no one in the court room enjoyed the passage at arms of the two more than he. In his opening remarks Mr. Bellamy stated that he thought when all sides were heard, it would be shown that the court was being served by an unworthy officer. This raised the ire of the deputy sheriff at the outset, and Mr. Rountree spoke in defence of Mr. Cox as an officer, paying him a high tribute as an officer, and saying that he had done in the present case no more than was his duty. Mr. Rountree said it was time the court was sounding a warning in the tendency to disregard the majesty of the law.

Mr. Cox was the first witness, and testified to the facts substantially as set forth in his affidavit; that he had gone in the office to summons Mr. John E. Wood, an employe of Mr. North; that the latter got mad and told him he had no business in his office taking off his men and advised Mr. Wood not to respond to the summons; that he treated Mr. North with all due consideration, but that Mr. North was discourteous to him. The cross-examination of the witness by Mr. Bellamy started the "fireworks," the questions of the attorney tending to bring Mr. Cox into disrepute so far as sobriety is concerned. He referred to some trouble that Mr. Cox had in Starkey's saloon some time ago and asked the witness about it. He replied that he had an altercation with an Italian there because the Italian insulted him, and that the Mayor afterwards told him when he had submitted and paid for the offence that it was no more harm to resent an insult in a saloon than it was elsewhere. Mr. Bellamy inquired when was the last time he was in Starkey's saloon. The witness replied that he didn't remember the date, but it was one day when he, Mr. Bellamy, came in and got a quart of "Full Dress" for himself. The court room could not suppress a titter at the expense of the learned attorney. Mr. Bellamy pressed the witness to know if he didn't drink whiskey. He replied no; that he drank beer, and had taken a drink with Mr. Bellamy. Mr. Bellamy, with some apparent show of resentment, hotly asked if the witness meant to say that he had taken a drink with him. The witness replied most emphatically "yes, myself and about fifty others during election times when you wanted to be elected Congressman, you were opening beer and wine." Mr. Rountree doubled into a bow knot, threw up both hands and exclaimed in the midst of a roar of laughter, "Oh, no, not wine!"

When quiet had been restored by a sharp rap for order by His Honor, Mr. Bellamy continued the questioning as to the witness' conduct on one occasion during carnival times, when he, Mr. Bellamy, had Mr. Cox to serve some process for the attachment of one of the shows. Mr. Cox replied in the negative to a question if he had not raised a row on this occasion. Mr. Bellamy further questioned the witness as to the Starkey saloon incident and asked about the trial before the Mayor. The witness replied that he had been before the Mayor, but he thought this nothing worse than for the attorney then questioning him to have a fight before the Board of Aldermen and to break up the meeting, referring to a difficulty that Mr. Bellamy had once with Chief of Police Furlong. The sparring continued for some minutes longer. Mr. Bellamy stating that he would always resent an insult.

Sheriff Cowan and Constable Savage testified that Mr. Wood had told them on different occasions that Mr. North had been discourteous to Mr. Cox, and had not treated him like a gentleman. Mr. Savage went so far as to say that Mr .Wood told him that Mr. North had no business "butting in." This evidence was to counteract the effect of Mr. Wood's affidavit that Mr. North had in no way interfered with the officer.

Ex-Sheriff W. G. MacRae, County Treasurer Green, Messrs. Jas. H. Chadbourn, W. G. Pulliam and others testified that Mr. Cox's character was good and that they could not say he was not sober or that he was hotheaded.

Mr. North was next introduced and testified that he did not mean to be discourteous to the officer; that he did not obstruct in the least the process of the court, and that he simply asked Mr. Wood to get excused if he could; that it was a very busy time, and he could not afford to have him lose the time if it was possible to prevent it.

Mr. Wood testified in corroboration of what Mr. North had testified and didn't remember having made the statements attributed in the presence of Sheriff Cowan and Constable Savage. Mr. H. C. Sullivan, an operator at the Postal, testified to the same effect, but did not hear all that transpired. Messrs. E .C. Holt and John D. Bellamy, Jr., 2nd., testified to Mr. North's good character, his courteous bearing and general affability. Mr. Bellamy wanted to put on testimony to impeach the general character of the deputy sheriff, but this was held not to be competent by His Honor, who announced at the conclusion of the case that he would have a copy of the testimony made, expunging from the same the tilt between Mr. Bellamy and Mr. Cox, but Mr. Bellamy stated that he had no objection to letting it stand. The decision will be awaited with interest.

STILL ON MEIER CASE

Damage Suit Against Consolidated Company May Be Concluded Today—Experts Testify as to Car Equipment in Use.

Contrary to the expectations of every one, including Judge Long presiding, the Meier case in the Superior Court was prolonged yesterday all through the day, and when the hour for adjournment was reached at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon still not all the evidence was in. It was understood Saturday afternoon that the defence and plaintiff would introduce only one or two more witnesses and the testimony would be closed, but yesterday other avenues were opened and first one side and then the other were introducing expert testimony until the hearing had to go over until today. It is extremely doubtful now if the case can be concluded by tonight.

The second week of the court opened yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock and the sheriff returned the jurors summoned for the second week as follows: Messrs. Jurgen Haar, Benj. Bell, Victor E. Zoeller, J. T. Dooley, M. S. Willard, R. B. Farr, R. H. Bowden, J. O. Powers, W. G. Pulliam, E. S. Hancock, Richard H. Shew, H. E. Bonlitz, W. T. Smith, George Harriss, D. D. Cameron and S. E. Rogers. Of the number drawn H. R. Kuhl, Jr., and E. S. Knight were not found. Messrs. Benj. Bell, J. T. Dooley, Jurgen Haar and Victor E. Zoeller were excused for reasons satisfactory to the court.

The morning hour of the court was largely taken up with the contempt proceedings, an account of which is given in another column. Then several witnesses were introduced and recalled for the defendant in the Meier case, a recess having been taken until 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The afternoon session was largely taken up in hearing the testimony of experts on the use of air brakes and the length of time these have been in general use, the plaintiff seeking to show that the car which ran over Meier was not properly equipped. Among these witnesses were Mr. A. D. Corinth, assistant superintendent of motive power of the Coast Line; Mr. W. B. Beery, a car inspector of the same company; Mr. W. R. Dosher, a machinist in charge of the air brakes in the Coast Line shops in this city; Mr. Sutter, an inspector of the Seaboard Air Line in Wilmington; Mr. J. R. Davis, and Mr. F. A. Fetter, Jr., agent of the Seaboard Air Line in this city. Mr. Fetter testified especially as to the headlights that were in use on the suburban lines around Norfolk and Petersburg. He could not qualify, however, as to the appliances in general use as to the latter city. Then also some time was consumed in reading over the charter of the old Wilmington Seacoast Railroad, which was electrified by the Consolidated Company under an amended charter. The plaintiff's attorneys held that the Consolidated Company, operating under the charter of the steam road, was bound to provide such facilities and conveniences as were required of the steam road under the charter of which the trolley line was being operated. As to this phase of the question a large number of objections and exceptions were taken by both sides, indicating that in any event the Supreme Court will be called upon to pass upon at least this phase of the controversy.

Mr. and Mrs. McMillen Bereaved.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McMillen will sympathize with them deeply in the death of their little son, Selson Strohn, aged 14 months and 14 days, which occurred last night at 9:30 o'clock at the family home in this city, No. 415 Orange street. The funeral will be conducted from the residence at 4.30 o'clock this afternoon and the interment will be in Oakdale.

A NEW FISCAL YEAR

Board of Aldermen in Regular Monthly Session For June Last Night.

ADJOURNED AT MIDNIGHT

Many Matters, Including Awarding of Contracts and Passing Upon Tax Ordinance and Budget, Before Board—Carnival Petition.

The Board of Aldermen had a race with the clock last night and came dangerously near losing out, an adjournment having been reached just on the strike of twelve, midnight. It was the first meeting of the new fiscal year and a large number of matters were presented for final consideration, these including the tax ordinance and budget, the annual reports of several departments, the awarding of contracts for yearly supplies, etc. All of these, however, appear from the detailed account of the proceedings given herewith:

The Board was called to order shortly after 8 o'clock and all members were present except Alderman W. H. Yopp. The regular order of business was set aside for the present and Mr. O'Brien introduced Postmaster Thomas E. Wallace, who spoke at some length of the needs of the improvement of the streets and sidewalks as a prerequisite to the extension of the free delivery service by the carriers from the postoffice. Mr. Wallace explained very carefully the minutae of the service in this respect and read letters pertaining to a case in point. He referred especially to the need of the extension in the First and Fifth wards, presenting a map of the city as subdivided into carrier districts. The office now has 13 carriers, mounted and on foot, but the demands were for 16 carriers if the city would improve its highways. The matter, upon motion of Mr. O'Brien, was referred to the Streets and Wharves committee

Mr. French introduced the question of a public park and asked a hearing for commissioner H. L. Vollers, chairman of the Public Building Committee, who spoke of the tender by the county of the grounds of the Court House as a play ground for children, reference to which is made in connection with the proceedings of the County Commissioners published elsewhere in today's paper. The matter was referred to the Public Building Committee to confer with Mr. Vollers.

The regular call of committees was proceeded with. Chairman Bolles, of the Finance Committee, reported the result of the recent conferences of the two boards on the tax ordinance and the budget. The tax ordinance as agreed on in conference was formally adopted without change.

The budget of appropriations for the fiscal year was then taken up by sections and then as a whole. Under the head of Streets and Wharves $12,000 was appropriated for streets and repairs, mainly to be used in roadway extensions in the outlying portions of the city, the work of general improvement to be taken up later under the bond issue. An appropriation of $3,000 was added under head of Sanitary for a systematic system of drainage. Mr. O'Brien made a plea for an extra $3,000 for curbing, but it was decided to allow the matter to be adjusted in committee. Under the head of Sanitary Department, Mr. Karr made objection to the private contract for collecting and removing all the garbage of the city and called on the City Attorney for an opinion on the legality of the conference. Mr. O'Brien thought the contract should be drawn up and it should be plainly specified what the contractors are to perform. Mr. French moved the acceptance of the bid of Messrs. Woolard & Furlong at $7,312 per year; seconded by Mr. Wood. The motion was carried, Alderman Karr alone voting in the negative. Under head of lights, Chairman Northrop stated that the appropriation provided only for three new lights whereas there are already applications for seven new ones. The appropriation was carried just as agreed on in conference with the understanding that a special appropriation will be allowed later for additional lights. The total of the budget is $224,356 and carries increases as proposed for policemen, firemen, street laborers, etc., and provides for the building of a central fire station on the present site of the chemical engine house. Upon motion of Mr. Bolles, the proposition of Chairman Rathjen to consolidate the Fourth Street Market House and engine station was adopted and the sum of $8,000 was appropriated for this purpose.

The bid of Jackson & Bell Company for city advertising at 30 cents per inch flat was accepted.

The award of the contract was made to J. W. Murchison & Co., for furnishing garbage cans.

The Sanitary Committee made written report of the investigation of charges against Superintendent L. F. Harper, a majority report dismissing the charge of dishonesty but suspending the officer for intoxication. The minority report was signed by Alderman W. H. Yopp, who refused to concur in the opinion and recommending that Mr. Harper be discharged for the LATE DR. PRITCHARD.

In the editorial columns of the Charlotte Chronicle of Saturday we find this:

"The completion of Pritchard Memorial Baptist church recalls to mind the emenient preacher and Christian gentleman, in whose memory the church has taken its name. A memorial window facing Templeton Avernue, bears the inscription:

"'Thos. H. Pritchard, D. D., 1832-1896. Preacher, pastor, editor, educator, friend of man; Servant of God.'

"More than eleven years have passed since the death of this good man. A new generation is here who can remember little concerning him. But many recall his stalwart form and genial presence, his faculty for happiness which made him full of zestful stories, as he went his rounds of serious duty—

"'With summer lightnings of a soul,
So full of summer warmth, so glad,
So healthy, sound and dear and whole,
His memory scarce can make us sad.'

"Dr. Pritchard was not without humor in his life time. He had responsible positions and men rendered to him the tribute due the strong worker. Yet few can know the struggles, the travail and the toil, crowded into his life of sixty-four years. He was a prolific writer on religious topics, a man of affairs, once president of Wake Forest College, and he held pastorates in Baltimore, Louisville, Fredericksburg and Petersburg. But his longest and best services were given to his native State. For eight years he was pastor in Wilmington, and for fourteen years in Raleigh. In Charlotte his service covered only a few years, but within that time he came to be known and loved by about every man, woman and child in the city. For his piety was human, strong, yet sympathetic, consistent but tender. His soul was aflame with love of Christ and his fellow man.

"A native of Charlotte, it is fitting that his memory should be held in loving remembrance here."

Dr. Pritchard was as much beloved in Wilmington, having for many years been pastor of the First Baptist Church of our city. Dr. Pritchard went to Charlotte from Wilmington and the Chronicle's editor knew him well, as he speaks truly of the characteristics of the departed minister. Besides being a man of earnest convicitions and an able minister, Dr. Pritchard was truly the cheerful Philosopher and apostle of sunshine.

COTTON IN THE CAROLINAS.

The York Journal of Commerce for years has kept up with the growth of the cotton crop and its prospects and no fuller or more correct reports are to be had than those which come from its hundreds of correspondents throughout the Cotton Belt. In Saturday's Journal of Commerce contained this information concerning the crop in the two Carolinas:

"Recent warmer and more favorable weather has considerably improved conditions and has lifted cotton from a generally gloomy prospect. Cold, wet weather caused general replanting and made the crop quite two weeks late. Stands, as a rule, are poor, but enough correspondents report good stands with favorable prospects to lend assurance of a full crop with normal weather conditions for the remainder of the season. The plant is small, but percentage condition is expected to be fully up to last year, and with an increased acreage North Carolina is likely to produce a normal crop.

This refers to the South Carolina crop:

"On account of so much cold weather and rain considerable cotton died and replanting was general. The season is unusually late—thirty days in some localities—but the State averages about two weeks backward. Reports of poor stands and a small plant predominate, but there is a goodly proportion of correspondents who look for a good yield, reporting good stands and the ground unusually well prepared. Recent favorable weather has improved prospects, and if continued will give the crop a good chance to make up lost time. Some scarcity of labor is complained of, but nothing abnormal. Percentage condition will porbably figure out as good as last year and a reduction of acreage is improbable."

The crop is late, but from all accounts the prospects in North Carolina and South Carolina are not near so discouraging as in much of the central and southwestern part of the Belt.

PLUCKY YOUNG MEN MAKE THEIR WAY.

The old adage that "every man is the architect of his own fortune" largely holds good today, and reward still awaits the young man with pluck and perseverance. This was illustrated in the case of young Mr. Eaton, of Davie county, who graduated the past week at the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts at Raleigh, after paying his own way through college by work during the sessions and vacations. The article with reference to young Mr. Eaton's achievement, copied by The Star Saturday from the Raleigh News and Observer, was a worthy tribute to him. Speaking of it, Mr. W. B. Cooper, Wilmington's well known wholesale grocer, who himself knows how a young man can carve his way through the world when he tries, writes The Star:

"I notice in this morning's Star an extract from the News and Observer about the boy who went through the A. & M. College for five years and came out four dollars ahead, after paying his entire expenses by his own efforts. If more could be said about that I would be glad. I happened to be one of the turstees on the platform at the time, and it certainly made me feel good to see so many boys being educated by their own exertions.

"By the way, Dr. Winston tells us that if he had the accommodations he would soon have two thousand boys in the institution. I believe we only have six from New Hanover county. Of course, we should have fifty. Personally I would be only too glad to be of service to any boys in this county that desire to go."

CURRENT COMMENT.

—Raleigh's primacy as the educational centre is to be strengthened. The new trustees of Peace Institute are preparing to enlarge the buildings so as to accommodate the larger attendance expected.—Raleigh News and Observer.

—Mr. Roosevelt must have gotten a tip fram the last Legislature of North Carolina. In his recent railroad speech, he said: "Let the local attorneys of the big roads keep out of politics; and when they have to appear before the national or any State Legislature, let their names be put on a special register, and let their business be aboveboard and open." Precisely that same idea was agitated at the opening of the last Legislature, only as we remember it the bill was aimed not at railroad attorneys alone, but at all lobbyists and it provided that they announce their presence by writing their names in a public register.—Charlotte Chronicle.

—With the tobacco crop, at least in certain sections, irreparably damaged and the cotton crop in a most uncertain state, now would seem to be a good time for the farmers of the state to try, at least as an experiment, the plan so often and so strenuously advocated by many of the best thinkers of the south, of diversified crops. The custom of several generations' growth cannot be easily changed or modified, and no doubt many of the farmers will continue to depend almost entirely upon one "money crop," leaving the question of subsistence for man and beast to take care of itself or be at most regarded as a minor consideration, but for all that we repeat that now is a good time to try this new order of things and see how it will work.—Greensboro Industrial News.

—Mr. Foraker made a strong anti-Roosevelt speech at Steubenville, O., Thursday. The burden of his speech was the usurpation by the Executive of authority expressly reserved to other departments of the government by the Federal constitution; the attempt by the President to dictate the selection of his successor in that high office; the public condemnation before trial of men accused of offenses against the law; the tendency to seek elastic properties in the constitution to serve particular cases with which its provisions conflict, and the possible building up of a powerful machine for private ends through the use of the Federal patronage. An incident of Foraker's visit to Steubenville was his enthusiastic greeting by two hundred negroes.—Charlotte Chronicle.

THE TINY SCIARA.

A Procession of Worms Seen In Hungary and Norway.

In some of the Hungarian forests and in the pine woods of Norway there exists a tiny, wormlike insect called the sciara, of the genus tipula. During the month of July or early in August they gather together in large numbers, preparatory to migrating in search of food or for change of condition. When setting out on this journey they stick themselves together by means of some glutinous matter and form a huge serpent-like mass, often reaching a length of between forty and fifty feet and several inches in thickness. As the sciara is only on an average about three thirty-seconds of an inch in length, with no appreciable breadth whatever, the number required to compose a continuous line of the size above mentioned is almost incalculable. Their pace is, of course, very slow, and upon meeting an obstacle, such as a stick or stone, they will either writhe over or around it, sometimes breaking into two bodies for this purpose.

M. Guerin-Meneville, a celebrated French naturalist, said that if the rear portion of this wonderful snakelike procession be brought into contact with the front part and a sort of circle formed the insects will keep moving round in that circle for hours without apparently noticing that they are getting no "forrader" on their journey. If the procession be broken in two, the portions will reunite in a short time. The Norwegian peasants, when they meet one of these trains, will lay some article of their clothing, such as a belt or handkerchief, on the ground in front of it. If the procession passes over it it is regarded as a good sign, but if it makes a way round the reverse is believed.

Scandalous.

Mr. Moth—Glad to see you on your feet again, old man! What caused all the trouble?

His Neighbor—Why, I dined off a seemingly woolen overcoat, and it turned out to be the worst kind of shoddy. I tell you the extent to which food adulteration is carried on nowadays is nothing short of criminal.—Puck.

Flowers and Voice.

Mrs. Howells (reading)—A German scientist claims that the odor of flowers has a pernicious effect on the human voice. Howells—That's all rot. I used to buy flowers for you before we were married, and your voice wasn't nearly so sharp as it is now.

Approval?

"Do you think they approved of my sermon?" asked the newly appointed rector, hopeful that he had made a good impression on his parishioners.

"Yes, I think so," replied his wife; "they were all nodding."

When Schumann was in love he wrote, "I wish I were a smile, that I might play about your cheeks."

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS.

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles. A Wilmington Citizen Shows How to Cure Them.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, week or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so i tis with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they may lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Kidney Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Wilmington people testify to permanent cures.

R. A. Biddle, clerk at 19 Market street, residing at 606 Castle street, Wilmington, N. C., says "I used Doan's Kidney Pills myself for kidney trouble and my wife who suffered from backache also used them. I never knew anything to act so quickly. I have suffered for quite a long time with my back and kidneys. The kidney secretions were very dark and full of sediment. My wife also complained of her back, and when we read of Doan's Kidney Pills in our newspapers I went to R. R. Bellamy's drug store and got a box. We used them with best of results. In my case the kidney secretions cleared up and the pains left my back. We have neither of us complained since taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and it is with pleasure that I recommend them at every opportunity."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

FOUND RELIC ON BATTLEFIELD

Remarkable Find of North Carolina Veteran at Gaines' Mill—Picked Up Pistol Where His Captain Fell in Battle.

Richmond, Va., June 1.—Though above two score years have elapsed since he participated in the battle around Richmond, Private Reardon, Company F, of the First North Carolina Regiment, still holds his memory bright on the many little incidents that happened either to himself or to the warriors of his immediate vicinity. Yesterday he gave a remarkable demonstration of his retentive power. With several members of his company he visited the scene around Gaines' Mill, where was fought a bloody engagement during McClellan's campaign around Richmond.

The old veteran's eye became as keen as an eagle's as he caught within his vision the spots which to him retained still their hallowed memories. Gazing deeply at a small hillock he said slowly and with conviction, "That is the spot where our captain fell, struck by a Yankee bullet." Reardon's friends and comrades gathered about him more closely. All of them remembered the captain who led them through the thick of many a battle. "I can see him as he stood generations ago," continued the veteran," "pointing toward the enemy and directing his men. I see him raising his pistol to fire. A bullet strikes him. I can see him swaying, then he fell heavily to the earth." Pondering a moment, Reardon asserted with dramatic force: "And that is the exact spot where his pistol fell." With that the speaker advanced a step, hesitated, and, yelling out a cry of joy, he began to dig with his cane. In a few minutes he had completely unearthed a rusty pistol. Reardon had caught a sight of it sticking from the red clap as he spoke. Looking more intently he discovered the name of the captain inscribed on the handle. The incident is a remarkable one. Reardon says he would not part with the weapon for a fortune.

Knives Are Tiny Saws.

Knives, no matter how carefully sharpened, are little saws. The grinding away of the steel, done by the stone, is not an even work, but when the edge gets thin is a process of tearing away tiny bits of steel by the grit of the stone. This tearing makes the teeth. A fine stone makes fine teeth, a coarse stone coarse teeth. A carving knife used on meat is sharpened on a coarse stone or a steel and has coarse teeth, although its edge is thick. Its action in parting the meat is more that of a saw than a fine wedge. No matter how soft it may be it will not cut easily unless it is drawn over the meat and not simply pressed down. A razor, however, with its paperlike edge, will cut into flesh with a simple pressure. It is a wedge dividing the fibers of flesh just as a wedge of iron divides the fibers of the log it splits. But a razor is a saw, too, only as it is ground on the finest stones and later finished with a leather strap, its teeth are very fine indeed—hundreds and hundreds to the inch of blade.—C. H. Claudy in St. Nicholas.

FAIR PLAY.

A Plea That Is Respected by Almost All Classes of Men.

There is an appeal to which nearly all classes of men give heed—let us have fair play. You may address a schoolful of mischievous boys on the beauties of goodness, on the evils of cruelty or harshness to their fellows, and they will laugh at you. Exhortations to avoid any abstract evil or wrong and appeals to follow any abstract virtue will seem hazy to almost any collection of ordinary, healthy and lusty young boys, but if their sense of fair play be addressed there is a ready response.

Go among a crowd of wharfingers or longshoremen or the roughest and most reckless sailors, who have neither home nor principles of any sort, and talk to them of the things of the head or of the heart, and they will think that you are a harmless but quite futile specimen from crankdom. Try to awaken in them a horror of the brutality of their usual life, speak in moving terms of the force and beauty of kindness or of virtue or of any attribute of a polite and civilized society and way of life, and you will be soliciting the wind, talking to a statue, shouting in the desert. But in the most uncouth assemblage and in the vilest haunt in the English speaking world mention fair play and found your argument and your plea on that basis, and the effect is instant and eloquent.—Philadelphia Ledger.

—A squad of convicts from the county camp were engaged yesterday in grading and turfing the portion of the jail yard next to Princess street. During the day they improved the appearance of the grounds of the jail very much. This work is in charge of Chairman Vollers of the Public Bulding Committee of the county.

—Mr. L. H. Simmons, of Chadbourn, was over yesterday. He is in charge of the large ice plant of the Independent Company there. He says that a few strawberries are still going forward but that the bulk of the shipments are over. Pickers are very scarce, he says, or the shipments would now be larger in spite of the close of the season.

—Wilmington and vicinity was visited by a severe hail storm Sunday afternoon between 1 and 2 o'clock. The stones were about the size of marbles and fell thick and fast for about five minutes, accompanied by a very heavy downpour of rain and a brilliant display of electricity. Reports from the country are that little, if any damage was done to vegetables.

greater offence. Mr. Wood thought that the minority report should be accepted and so moved; seconded by Mr. French. Mr. King moved the adoption of the majority report; seconded by Mr. O'Brien. The city Attorney spoke at the request of Mr. Wood, saying that it was simply a question of adopting the majority or the minority report. The majority report was adopted Messrs. Karr, O'Brien, Rathjen, King and Jewell voting in the affirmative, Messrs. Northrop, Wood, French and Bolles voting in the negative and Chairman W. H. Yopp being absent. Had he been present, it would have been up to the Mayor to break the tie.

Contract for electric and gas lighting and furnishing current for the fire alarm battery was awarded to the Consolidated Company. Award for the oil lighting was made to J. B. Casteen for $960. The Light Committee chairman was authorized to investigate the excessive gas lighting cost at the City Hall and to instal electric lights in its stead.

Chairman O'Brien presented the matter of relaying the pavement on Princess street, made necessary by the relaying of the track of the Consolidated Company. General Manager Skelding said that the lines of the track had been given by the city engineer and would necessitate the relaying of the entire street. The company was willing to pay for the paving between the double tracks and 30 inches on each side, but thought the city should pay the cost of the balance as the street will be much improved by raising the grade. Chairman O'Brien spoke in favor of the proposition and said the matter should as well be settled now as the same question would come up as to Front street. It was stated that there would be 1,600 or 1,700 yards at a cost of 17 cents per yard. Upon motion of Aldermen King it was agreed that the city would pay for this extra work. The Streets and Wharves Committee was empowered to act as it deems best as to any change of grades on Front street.

Mr. E. P. Brock was presented and stated that he had recently purchased the cooperage works in the southern part of the city and asked permission to run a switch on Meares street, connecting at the belt line on Front street and extending about 500 yards to the mill. The matter was referred to the Streets and Wharves Committee for report to the Board.

Mr. E. P. Willard, of the Willard Bag and Manufacturing Company, was introduced and asked for some drainage in the southern part of the city. Referred to Streets and Wharves Committee with power to act. Mr. Willard said he wanted some sidewalk improvements to their factory but said he would ask for this later.

Mr. O'Brien read a communication from W. F. Robertson and I. Shrier, asking in view of the double tracking of Princess street that the curbing in that vicinity be set in 2 1-2 feet on each side so as to give a driveway in front of residences. The matter was referred to the Streets and Wharves Committee with power to act.

An appropriation of $48.25 was granted to cover the cost of paving at Front Street Market.

Chairman O'Brien reported that the Streets and Water Committee is macadamizing Grace street between Seventh and Ninth; have graded some on Red Cross street and have done some filling in at several points. The matter of a proposed retaining wall at Grace church was discussed at some length, Alderman Bolles speaking of the uncertainty of lines and saying his idea was in all instances to preserve the contour of each block unto itself. The difficulties of the situation were explained by the Mayor and discussed by Mr. King, and others, Mr. King moving that the retaining wall be placed where it was before. This was seconded by Mr. Jewell, but was lost by a vote of 7 to 2.

Mr. O'Brien presented the question of excavations by the Coast Line at Eighth and Ninth and Brunswick streets, property owners being left on a high bluff. The situation was explained by Mr. Bolles, who had gone over the grounds with the city engineer. A letter had been addressed to Mr. Chambers, of the Coast Line, notifying the company that property owners must be satisfied in the matter.

A petition from Geo. C. Schute was read, asking that a bridge be built over the Coast Line tracks at Ninth street. Referred to Streets and Wharves Committee.

Bid of City Livery Company for caring and feeding the city live stock was accepted, subject to termination of the contract at the end of any month. The award of contract for granite curbing was given to J. T. Wyatt, of Salisbury, N. C. Contract for cement, terra cotta pipe and lime was awarded to Roger Moore's Sons & Co. Contract for brick was awarded to Hooper & Flynn, after some discussion as to the method of receiving the brick. Bids were received for crushed granite from J. T. Wyatt, Salisbury, and from C. H. Dock & Co., for material from the city rock quarry. The contract was awarded to C. H. Dock & Co.

The Police Committee, through Alderman French, recommended the award of the contract for feeding city prisoners to Mrs. Jane Sheehan at 15 cents per meal for two meals per day.

Chairman Wood, of the Water Committee, asked for a special committee to open negotiations for the purchase of the present water works system. Mr. French moved the appointment of Messrs. Wood, Karr and Bolles, the third member of the regular Water Committee ,being absent. The appointment of members of the Water Commission ,was brought up by Mr. Wood, the law being that the Board should elect one, the Board of Audit and Finance one, and the Mayor to appoint one. This matter was postponed until a special meeting to be held later in the month.

Upon recommendation of the Fire Committee, W. H. Kermon was elected a regular fireman, vice J .A. Hines, resigned. W. H. Hannerford was elected a member of the crew of the fire boat Atlantic.

The Fire Committee was authorized to sell the present station of the Hook and Ladder Company, reserving an alley in the rear, sale to take place at auction and same to be confirmed by the two boards of the city. Alderman Northrop favored retaining the site as a playground for the children.

Chairman Jewell, of the Public Building Committee, recommended the transfer of the two janitors now employed to the Police Department and the employement of a janitor for menial service. The recommendation was adopted.

Chairman Jewell said that the present city pound and shed could be partitioned into stalls for the city live stock at a cost of about $150. Mr. French suggested the idea of buying the feed for all city live stock at wholesale. The matter of stables was continued with the committee. The contract for coal was awarded to the Springer Coal Company.

A communication was read from the plumbers of the city asking that a plumber be not employed as an inspector, and that all plumbers be placed on the same license tax basis. Mr. Longley made a statement in regard to the matter, and Chairman Bolles, of the Finance Committee, explained the process of reasoning by which the graduated tax had been arrived at. Mr. J. A. Gregory also spoke. Mr. Gregory was appointed sub-inspector of plumbing to pass upon work done by Mr. Grant, the regular inspector. Mr. Schrader also made a statement, showing how the appointment might open the way for partiality. A long and tedious discussion followed, as the result of which the license was reduced to $3 per quarter, on a basis with all other tradesmen .

A petition was read from property owners on west side of the river, asking for the installation of seven arc lights. Referred to Light Committee.

A petition was read from J. F. Littleton, W. M .Cumming, D. Rountree, and Walter Taft, asking for the extension of the hog limits further south. Referred to Ordinance Committee.

The Red Men's petition for holding a carnival in the city was read. Mr. O'Brien said there was a resolution by the former administration against carnivals. The matter was dropped for the time being ,but later Mr. W. L. Burkheimer was heard at some length on the charity dispensed by the order, stating that it was desired to give the carnival during the Firemen's Tournament. Mr. King moved that the previous ordinance prohibiting carnivals be stricken out and the permit be granted; seconded by Mr. Jewell. Mr. O'Brien said there was considerable objection among business men and he favored holding the matter over so that all could be heard. Mr. King asked members of the Board to act sometimes on their own judgment. Mr. Northrop was opposed to carnivals; so were Messrs. French and Bolles, who said they were in sympathy with the work of the order and would prefer to make personal donations to the fraternity. The matter was referred to the Streets and Wharves Committee, for report at the next meeting.

Petition from property owners on St. James' Square for macadam streets was read. Mr. King spoke of the need of this improvement, saying he would like to give the Board of Audit and Finance another chance to turn the appropriation down. Mr. French explained that incidentally he knew that the Board of Audit and Finance had only deferred the matter. The question was referred to the Streets and Wharves Committee, with power to act. The work will be done out of the new appropriation.

Petitions were read from citizens

GREENE-GAYNOR CASE AFFIRMED

Verdict and Sentence of District Court at Savannah Must Stand.

YET HAVE RIGHT OF APPEAL

Can Take Case Up to United States Supreme Court—Sentence is Four Years in Penitentiary and $575,000 Fine.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New Orleans, June 3.—The sentence of the Savannah court in the Greene and Gaynor case, involving over half a million dollars fraud in government contract work in the Savanah harbor was affirmed in an opinion handed down by the United States Circuit of Appeals today. The sentence is four years imprisonment, each and a fine aggregating $575,000. Judges Shelby and McCormick handed down the opinion which was on an appeal, and Judge Pardee dissented.

On the ground that they were fugitives from justice, the court dismisses the defendants' plea for benefit of the statute of limitations.

Benjamin D. Greene and John F. Gaynor ,the defendants, appealed on 193 assignmets of error. The most interesting of these was the claim that the extradition from Canada, a case which went to the Privy Council of England before being finally tried, was illegal. They asserted they were extradited upon one offense and tried on another. Upon this point the court says:

"It is not usual, nor wolud it be expedient or practicable, for a warrant of extradition to describe the crime with all the fullness that would be required in an indictment. While extradition and indictment must be for the same criminal acts, it does not follow that the crime must have the same name in both countries."

The court held that the defendants were extradited for an offense for which they had been twice indicted. Replying to the contention that their offense was not extraditable under the treaty, the court holds first that it was extraditable and then argues hat even if the treaty did not on its face allow extradition for their offense, nevertheless the parties to this treaty could have taken action to make this instrument cover the offense and that such action would have applied to a previously committed offense. Greene and Gaynor can now either apply for a re-hearing or go to the Supreme Court on a writ of certiorari.

Savannah, June 3.—While the attorneys for Green and Gaynor will not discuss their future action in the case pending the receipt of the full decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals, it is expected that the fight in behalf of their clients will be carried to the United States Supreme Court. Every possible appeal will be resorted to in behalf of the convicted men.

An Underground City.

In Galacia, in Austrian Poland, there is a remarkable underground city, which has a population of over 1,000 men, women and children, scores of whom have never seen the light of day. It is known as the City of Salt Mines and is situated several hundred feet below the earth's surface. It has its town hall, theater and assembly room as well as a beautiful church, decorated with statues, all being fashioned from the pure crystallized rock salt. It has well graded streets and spacious squares, lighted with electricity. There are numerous instances in this underground city where not a single individual in three or four successive generations has ever seen the sun or has any idea of how people live in the light of day.

Don't Stoop When You Read.

The habit of stooping over when reading or writing has a bad effect on most eyes and should be avoided, especially if one is nearsighted. When people approach the age of forty the morning paper is apt to appear blurred, and they complain the printing is getting bad. The trouble is they need glasses. If they do not get them, later on their eyes will deteriorate so rapidly they will be obliged to wear them all the time. On the other hand, if a person puts on glasses when the first warning of "tired eyes" is received he will never be obliged to wear them the rest of his life except when doing fine work.

Backing His Theory.

"Do you still believe in inherited weaknesses?"

"Yes."

Mrs. Goldington—I am amazed, sir, that you should propose to my daughter. You have not known her a week. The Wily Suitor—True, madam. But I have known you for some time, and everybody says your daughter takes after you. (He got the girl.)

Forgetful.

Hostess—Oh, professor, haven't you brought your wife? Professor—There! I knew I'd forgotten something!—Punch.

Pearls of Great Price.

"Your wife's teeth are like pearls."

"They ought to be. I paid for them at that rate."—Tatler.

IF WATER NEVER FROZE.

There Would Be Several Startling Changes in the World.

The whole economy of nature would undergo a startling change if water never froze. The world's climates would be revolutionized. The icebound polar seas would cease to exercise their chilling influences, and consequently the currents of the ocean might either cease or be turned aside in different directions.

Thus the gulf stream would seek other shores than those of Britain, and the climate there might be subject to the extremes of heat and cold noticeable in other countries of the same latitude. The icebound rivers of the north, notably those of Russia and Siberia, would be open for navigation, and Russia's activity as a sea power and a commercial nation might alter the whole world of commerce.

Canada would become another country altogether. An immense tract of land would be available for cultivating hardy plants, and Greenland might be what its name indicates. The absence of icebergs off the coast of Newfoundland and Iceland would result in a much warmer climate in those islands, where now the crops often fail.

Ice, too, plays an important part in the economy of nature. Thus, if water never froze, snow, hail and hoarfrost would cease. The loosening of soils and the disintegration of rocks by the frost and many other now vital effects would be lost—in short, the absence of ice would be on the one hand an incalculable disaster, on the other hand a great boon.—London Globe.

THE BOARDING HOUSE.

Advantages of Its Pacific Influence In Married Life.

"Oh, dear, but this boarding house life is simply awful!" said the sweet young thing as she sipped her hot chocolate at a Chestnut street soda counter in company with an elderly fair companion. "I really don't see how you stand it," she continued in the same plaintive voice. "I am sure I shouldn't if I were happily married, as you are. I would have a house of my own, a cozy little place where there would be just myself and husband, serene and happy in our knowledge of each other's love." The older woman's eyes twinkled, albeit there was a somewhat grim look about the corners of her mouth, as she made reply: "My dear, you are very young and have lots to learn. Some unmarried philosophers on married life tell us that the boarding house is a feeder for the divorce courts and that it breeds discord for married people. Don't you believe them. When you have been married to a mere man as long as I have, you will find that the knowledge that your next room neighbor can hear if your voice is raised in anger and will tell your fellow boarders if you are heard to quarrel will have a valuable deterrent effect on not only yourself, but your lord and master as well, and many a cross word will be stifled in birth rather than have your disagreements published to the household."—Philadelphia Record.

Animals In Groups.

The ingenuity of the sportsman is perhaps no better illustrated than by the use he puts the English language to in designating particular groups of animals. The following is a list of the terms which have been applied to the various classes: A covey of partridges, a nide of pheasants, a wisp of snipe, a flight of doves or swallows, a muster of peacocks, a siege of herons, a building of rooks, a brood of grouse, a stand of plover, a watch of nightingales, a clattering of cloughs, a herd or bunch of cattle, a flock of geese, a bevy of quails, a cast of hawks, a swarm of bees, a school of whales, a shoal of herrings, a herd of swine, a skulk of foxes, a pack of wolves, a drove of oxen, a sounder of hogs, a troop of monkeys, a pride of lions, a sleuth of bears, a gang of elks.

Identified Himself.

"Some people have odd ways of identifying themselves," said a disgusted westerner visiting New York. "The other night a man came up to me in my hotel and claimed old time acquaintance. I saw visions of the confidence game at once and fought shy. How do you think he convinced me? Well, sir, he finally pulled out one of his eyes. Yes, sir, he did. It was a glass eye, of course, but I then realized his peculiar affliction despite a greatly altered appearance. But, do you know, it wasn't a pleasant performance. In fact, I suggested that he ought to carry a duly certified identification card."—New York Globe.

Expensive Modesty.

"What's the matter, old man? You look sad."

"I am. I just asked Farnsworth to lend me $5."

"And I suppose he said he didn't have that much in the world."

"No. He had to get a ten dollar bill changed in order to let me have what I had asked for."

Points of View.

"Beautiful memorial windows," remarked her husband as they left the church.

"I didn't notice particularly," said his wife, "but the light from it fell on the Joñes pew, and it made her complexion a fright."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Keenly So.

"Are you interested in the vital issues of the hour?"

"Intensely. Say, can you lend me 50 cents to get some lunch?"—Baltimore American.

Now's the only bird lays eggs o' gold.—Lowell.

NEW FISCAL YEAR.

asking for the opening of Second street to the Southern limits of the city and also for the installation of two lights at Front and Marstellar and Second and Kidder streets. These were referred to proper committees.

The formal tender of a part of their Greenfield tract to the city for uses as a public park was read from Messrs. Geo. R. French & Son, with a tender of adjoining property from Mr. Godfrey Hart, the matter having been presented to the Board of Audit and Finance some time ago. Upon motion of Mr. Bolles the gifts were accepted with gratitude by a rising vote and an appropriation was made for extending Eighth street to the property and appropriating $200 per year for maintenance of the park.

Fire Chief Schnibben reported 19 fire alarms during the month, with property loss of about $7,500.

The annual report of Chief of Police Williams was presented, showing 2,017 arrests during the twelve months, 808 of the defendants being white and 1,209 colored. During this period $1,661.43 was paid to the Clerk and Treasurer from the Mayor's Court, and $1,596.70 was paid into the school fund from the same source ,the total being $3,258.13. Of the arrests, 143 were sent to the Superior Court under bonds aggregating $8,760 and 147 cases were sent to the county farm for 4,170 days and 139 were sent to the county roads for an aggregate of 3,907 days. The outstanding fines on the books amount to $274.20, most of which can be collected. The department, the Chief says, is in good condition and something over 900 more arrests were made than during any two previous years. A raise in wages is advocated, the Chief stating that the men are now not above the wage scale of the ordinary laborer. The five mounted policemen are declared by the Chief to have considerably increased the efficiency of the force, which as a whole is composed of faithful, good and competent men. The retiring Mayor, Aldermen and City Attorney are thanked for their kindly assistance during the past two years.

The Superintendent of Health reported 57 deaths during May, of which 26 were white and 31 colored; 44 births, 18 white and 27 colored; 4,877 inspections by health officers; 625 orders for disinfectants, 19 fumigations and 1,344 loads of trash; three smallpox cases were quarantined. The dairy inspector made 34 inspections and 20 gravity tests. The plumbing inspector made six and issued 6 certificates.

The City Clerk and Treasurer reported total collections of $227,938.20 during the fiscal year, against $218,844.01 the previous year. This showing was regarded as exceptionally good and all the reports of an annual nature were received with thanks.

The tax books for the past year were turned over to the City Attorney for collection.

Messrs. O'Brien, French and Northrop were appointed to examine liquor licenses at the beginning of the new tax year.

Your Own Body.

Think deliberately of the house you live in—your body. Make up your mind not to abuse it. Eat nothing that will hurt it; wear nothing that distorts or pains it. Do not overload it with victuals or drink or work. Give yourself regular and abundant sleep. Keep your body warmly clad. At the first signal of danger from any of the thousand enemies that surround you defend yourself. Do not take cold; guard yourself against it. If you feel the first symptoms, give yourself heroic treatment. Get into a fine glow of heat by exercise. This is the only body you will ever have in this world. A large share of pleasure and pain of life will come through the use you make of it. Study deeply and diligently the structure of it, the laws that should govern it, the pains and penalties that will surely follow a violation of every law of life or health.

Torpedo Boats.

Torpedo boats and torpedo destroyers are thin skinned, unarmored craft. Often the steel hull is only about half an inch in thickness, but they travel as fast as many railway trains, some thirty or thirty-five miles an hour. They discharge their deadly bolt and run. A dark, stormy night is their chance. Then, without a light showing, they dash in and launch their torpedo, escaping, if they can, the hail of rapid fire that is sure to deluge them. —Frank E. Channon in St. Nicholas.

Force of Habit.

Realizing that he should pay her a compliment, the chronic debtor hesitates before the beautiful woman. At last he says to her:

"Just make a little tab for me, and next time I'm down your way I'll tell you how well you are looking."

But the look on her countenance was enough to make him realize that compliments must be paid on face value and that beauty keeps no books.—St. Louis Republic.

Friends and Reputation.

He who believes himself surrounded by admirers and whose vanity is hourly feasted with all the luxuries of praise easily persuades himself that his influence will be extended beyond this life; that those who he thinks are proud to be numbered among his friends will endeavor to vindicate his choice by zeal for his reputation.—Dr. Johnson in "Idler Papers."

THE VALUE OF A BEGINNING.

Too many people look down on small beginnings.

They think they will open a Savings Account when they get a hundred dollars. We have seen a good many more substantial savings develop from a start of $1 and DETERMINATION to get ahead, than from a hundred dollar start without determination.

WE LIKE THE SMALL BEGINNINGS. THEY SHOW THE TRUE SAVING SPIRIT. WE AIM TO MAKE THIS, IN FACT, THE PEOPLES' SAVINGS BANK.

4 Per Cent Interest Paid on All Accounts.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Greensboro, June 1: Mrs. Lucy H. Robertson, president of the Greensboro Female College, was granted a leave of absence by the board of trustees of the college when in session here at commencement and she will take a trip to Europe this Summer. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Brandt, wife of Mayor Brandt, and perhaps others. She will visit several points of interest while away. The board of directors unanimously agreed that she should receive her salary the entire time she is away.

—Raleigh, June 1: At noon today there was another elopement, the contracting parties being Miss Sackie W. Latta, the youngest daughter of Mrs. C. G. Latta, who eloped with Mr. W. L. Holt, who graduated this week at the Agricultural & Mechanical College here. He is a native of Johnson county, and his family is prominent. He obtained license in Durham county and the marriage took place at Nelson, a little station on the Southern Railway in that county. There had been opposition to the marriage by the mother of the bride on account of Miss Latta's youth, she being only 16 years of age.

—Lexington, June 1: The Continental Blow Pipe Company, of Lexington, has just completed one of the biggest jobs ever put through by a local factory. Six solid cars were required to ship the blow pipe system to Macon, Ga., where it will be used by a big factory there. Under the management of Mr. C. E. Overdeer, an experienced man in this line, the Continental Blow Pipe Company is making a great success in its business. It was built less than a year ago, and now has built up a trade which it can scarcely cope with. Recently the company doubled its capacity and working force. Many of the blower systems are being used by local wood-working factories, and at High Point.

—Raleigh correspondence Charlotte Observer, June 1: Several months ago your correspondent stated it was reported that a railway was to be built from here to Durham or some other points on the Norfolk & Wstern Railway to give the latter a coast connection. Some sort of a survey is now being made and stakes have been set west of here. The last Legislature chartered over 40 railways, and among them the Raleigh and Winston-Salem. It is now stated that this line will be built by the Norfolk & Southern Railway, which is already into Raleigh. The distance between Winston-Salem and Raleigh is 90 miles. The connection would give coal to Beaufort, which is to become an important coaling station. The Norfolk & Southern and Norfolk & Western are very friendly.

—Goldsboro, June 1: A most deliberate and cold blooded murder was committed a half mile from the city limits in the cotton factory section tonight at 9 o'clock. F. Talton, a well known white man of this city, shot another white man, Major Jones, to death with a pistol. Both men had been drinking all the afternoon. A few minutes before the shooting the men got into dispute. Talton left the scene and went home, but returned in a few minutes, and, pulling a pistol from his pocket, deliberately aimed at Jones, firing five shots, every ball taking effect. When Talton fired the first shot Jones exclaimed, "My God," and tried to run. Four more balls in rapid succession were fired into his body. Jones then fell to the ground and expired. The murderer was arrested.

—Newbern, June 1: John Payne, colored, died at the hospital today from injuries received on the head inflicted by Samuel Cherry, colored. Both men are blacksmiths and work for different parties. Payne was drunk Friday evening and kept annoying Cherry, who had warned him several times to keep away. Payne approached Cherry while he was at work at his forge with a brickbat in his hand. Cherry, believing that Payne meant to hit him, picked up a piece of buggy shaft and dealt him a terrific blow on the head and Payne fell unconscious. Cherry shouted to some of the passersby to get a doctor and a policeman, that he guessed he had killed a man. He willingly submitted to arrest and pleaded self-defense for the deed. The skull was fractured more than three inches. One blow was all that was given. Cherry is a quiet, industrious negro and his deed is looked upon as self-defense. Payne was quarrelsome, even when sober.

The Magic No. 3.

Number three is a wonderful mascot for Geo. H. Parris, of Cedar Grove, Me., according to a letter which reads: "After suffering much with liver and kidney trouble, and becoming greatly discouraged by the failure to find relief, I tried Electric Bitters, and as a result I am a well man today. The first bottle relieved and three bottles completed the cure." Guaranteed best on earth for stomach, liver and kidney torubles, by R .R. Bellamy ,druggist. 50c.

NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed-up cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundancy.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market to-day.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

NATURE PROVIDES FOR SICK WOMEN

a more potent remedy in the roots and herbs of the field than was ever produced from drugs.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers few drugs were used in medicines and Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., in her study of roots and herbs and their power over disease discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an honest, tried and true remedy of unquestionable therapeutic value.

During its record of more than thirty years, its long list of actual cures of those serious ills peculiar to women, entitles Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to the respect and confidence of every fair minded person and every thinking woman.

When women are troubled with irregular or painful functions, weakness, displacements, ulceration or inflammation, backache, flatulency, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

No other remedy in the country has such a record of cures of female ills, and thousands of women residing in every part of the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable compound and what it has done for them.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. For twenty-five years she has been advising sick women free of charge. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and as her assistant for years before her decease advised under her immediate direction. Address, Lynn, Mass.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 3.—The cotton market was very active today sales being estimated 500,000 bales and while there was heavy realizing ahead of the government report expected at noon tomorrow prices ruled generally firm, closing steady at a net advance of 15 to 23 points. The opening was firm at an advance of 9 to 14 points on covering and fresh buying attacted by higher cables and unsettled weather over Sunday but weather conditions as reparted for this morning were a little better and with the early forecast favorable, the prospects for better growing conditions naturally increased the disposition among scattering longs to take profits for over the government report. Offerings consequently were very heavy during the early session and prices eased off during the first hour to within 2 or 3 points of Saturday's finals. Around that level the market was steadied by an active demand from nearby shorts, and by an increasing movement in nearby crop months and commission houses with southern and western connections did a good business.

Private crop bulletins were bullish and the market in the afternoon was influenced by a good business for July from exporters. After selling at an advance of about 20 to 23 points on the active months in the middle of the afternoon prices eased off several points but rallied again before the close and made a new high record on the July option. The close was 3 to 4 points off from the best under realizing. Port receipts for the day were unexpected light and only about half the exports. Southern spot market were firm and generally unchanged. New Orleans was closed for the day.

Receipts at the ports were 3,164 bales against 9,654 last week and 10,078 last year. For the week 45,000 bales against 52,780 last week and 55,470 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 621 bales against 2,744 last year and at Houston 745 bales against 1,102 last year.

Spot cotton closed steady 10 points higher; middling uplands 12.90; middling gulf 13.15; futures closed steady.

ENGLISH SCHOOLS.

The Flogging Custom and the Way It Is Regarded.

About corporal punishment in England two curious facts lie beyond dispute. One is that while the working class and the lower middle class dislike and resent it and will not in general allow their children to undergo it, the aristocracy tolerate it without complaint. The time is coming, one might assert paradoxically, when it will be impossible to flog anybody but the son of a peer. And the other fact is that public school boys have often felt a special affection for the masters who have punished them most.

In Westminster abbey stand side by side the tombs of a master and his pupil. The master was Dr. Busby, who was head master of Westminster school for so long a time as fifty-eight years. Nobody ever flogged so many boys as he. The pupil was the theologian, Dr. South. It is told—I am sure the story is true—that when South came as a small boy to Westminster Busby greeted him with the ominous words: "I see great talents in that sulky little boy, and my rod shall bring them out." If so, he was no doubt as good as his word. But when South lay upon his deathbed it was his last prayer to be buried at his old master's feet, and the master and the pupil now rest side by side.—Nineteenth Century.

That's What.

"A great deal depends upon the dressing," observed the thoughtful thinker.

"Speaking of what?" queried his friend.

"Women and salads," answered the T. T.—Exchange.

Those who want fewest things are nearest to the gods.—Socrates.

DAVIS MEMORIAL AT RICHMOND

Bronze Statue to First and Only President of Confederate States Unveiled.

GRAND PARADE OF VETERANS

Mrs. Hayes, Daughter, of Mr. Davis, Pulled Cord—Descendants of Confederate President Received Ovation from Veterans.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Richmond, Va., June 3.—Under a perfect sky, with bands playing crashing music in which "Dixie" and "Maryland" were preeminent, the remnants of the armies of the gray today paraded through the streets of Richmond and out on splendid Monument Avenue unveiled an enduring memorial to Jefferson Davis, the first and only President of the Confederate States of America. The event came as the climax of the reunion of the United Confederate Veterans and every member of this body of old men who was able to walk at all took part. The day and the event is one that will live forever in the memory of those who were present and the expressions of beautiful sentiment which were uttered by the speakers are destined to become a part of the history of the South. Second only to the tribute given to the memory of Dixie land's great chieftain were those offered on every hand to the women of the South whose gift the monument is.

The ceremony was one for the South. No other section had any part in it. The veterans who fought for the "Lost Cause" were gathered together to pay their tribute to the man whose memory is revered above all others. Their descendants were assembled because it is bred in them to cherish that memory and because they wished to imbibe new lessons. The speeches counseled the teaching of loyalty to the cause for which the Southern States struggled but there was nothing in the teachings but what excited the sympathy and approval of visitors from other sections.

That the great multitude had gathered for one purpose alone was evidenced by the attitude of the people toward William Jennings Bryan who was the guest of the reunion. He was given a remarkable ovation as he drove through the streets in the line of march and cheered to the echo as he mounted the stand just before the programme was begun. At the conclusion of the ceremony there were a number of calls for him to address the people but these were immediately drowned in a chorus of "no," "no," "no," many time repeated. The objections came from severywhere and were led by the women of the Jefferson Davis Monument Association. General Stephen D. Lee, grand commander, who presided at the stand, announced in ringing tones: "There will be no politics here." He turned to the crowd in every direction to shout this warning and it had the desired effect. The calls ceased at once.

During the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Bryan had occupied an inconspicuous position in the rear of the speaker's stand and out of sight of the people. As soon as his name was called Mr. Bryan made a movement as though to withdraw from the stand. He realized that if he appeared before the people a political motive would be attributed to him by many and for that reason had opposed going on the stand at all. The prompt suppression of the calls by General Lee and others saved an embarrassing situation.

One of the touching incidents of the day was the presentation of descendents of Mr. Davis to the great throng. This occurred at the conclusion of the programme.

Mrs. J. Addison Hayes, of Colorado Springs, Colo., was led forward first and introduced as the daughter of President Davis, and then followed Miss Alice Hayes, Jefferson Hayes Davis, whose name was transposed by an act of the legislature to perpetuate the name of the Confederate Chieftain; William Davis Hayes, and Mrs. Webb, all children of Mr. and Mrs. Hayes. Last of all Davis Hayes Webb, the great grandson of Mr. Davis, was introduced. The people cheered each one enthusiastically and kept Mrs. Hayes to the front of the stand many minutes bowing acknowledgments to their plaudits.

The event today was a fitting close to what is universally recognized as probably the last "great" gathering of the Confederate veterans. It was the feature that drew many thousands from all sections of the South who otherwise would not have come. That sense of loyalty to their leader of nearly half a century ago, which virtue is so broad that it takes nothing from their unstinted allegiance to the flag of a re-united people, was even a greater magnet than the old camp fire. The unveiling of the monument was the fruition of eighteen years of patient and loving effort and every man who wore the Southern uniform had i nhis heart a desire to be present.

Beautiful sentiment was heard on every side and the thanks of the entire South were offered by the orators of the occasion to the United Daughters of the Confederacy, whose work it was that made the Jefferson Davis Monument Association a success. Of these expressions a quotation from the writing of Jefferson Davis himself which was given in the principal speech by General Clement A. Evans, of Atlanta, Ga., evoked the most applause. The sentiment occurs in the dedication of the "Rise and Fall of the Confederacy," by Davis and is addressed to the "Women of the South of Yesterday," as follows: "To the women of the Confederacy, whose pious administrations to our wounded soldiers soothed the last hours of those who died far from the objects of their tenderest love; whose domestic labors contributed much to supply the wants of our defenders in the field; whose zealous faith in our cause shone a guiding star undimmed by the darkest clouds of war; whose fortitude sustained them under all the privations to which they were subjected; whose annual tribute expresses their enduring grief, love and reverance for our sacred dead, and whose patriotism will teach their children to emulate the deeds of our revolutionary sires."

The grand parade to the unveiling started at 11:30 o'clock. The military feature was similar to the parade on the first dy of the reunion when the statue of Major General J. E. B. Stuart was unveiled, but there were far more veterans in gray in the line. They appeared to have been saying their strength for this event and although the walking was bad, none who could walk at all shirked the duty. Arrangements had been made to conserve the strength of the old men, in that the Confederate veterans were formed in open rank within one mile of the statue, but modern military organization marched through in review to be followed by the veterans, the carriages contingent and auxiliary orders. This entailed no long march for the veterans and avoided all countermarching in the parade formation. The grand procession was under command of Genenral Stith Bolling, of Petersburg, Va., as chief marshal.

Along the line of march a dense crowd lined the streets, the windows were filled and many of the housetops covered with cheering and singing groups. Flags were waved in beating time to stirring Confederate airs. In the great concourse of veterans organizations which proceeded in perfect order, was a constant succession of bands and fife and drum corps. Following the veteran section of the parade came the carriage division, carrying many of the women, to whom the Confederate soldiers owe nearly every memorial which has been erected in honor of the heroes of the Confederacy. That the South appreciates what the women have done was attested by the cheering which greeted their procession.

A beautiful young woman in white, Miss Roberta Caldwell, attracted admiration at the head of Troop A, of Nashville, Tenn., about forty gray uniformed old men with sabers. Miss Caldwell carried a Confederate battle-flag. There were many other interesting features of the parade outside the appearance of the veteran bodies. Among these were the sponsors from the various Confederate States, attended by scores of maids of honor. These attractive young women in white, wearing sashes of red, rode in carriages, and lent a charming addition to the long line of gray.

On the line of March were the statues of Generals Lee and Stuart. The military saluted, the crowds cheered and the bands played "Dixie" and "Maryland." The procession continued out the avenue to the Davis monument, where a dense crowd of people had assembled. So great was this congregation that it was with great difficulty a passage was cleared for the speakers and other distinguished visitors to reach the stand. The ceremonies were opened with prayer by the Rev. Dr. J. William Jones, of Richmond, chaplain general, and so glowing were his tributes to Mr. Davis that a chorus of "Amens" swept over the multitude.

The first address was by Governor Claude A. Swanson, of Virginia. The speech of Governor Swanson was a welcome to all veterans to Richmond and Virginia. In the course of his remarks, the Governor spoke feelingly of the "lost cause," saying:

"Virginia would consider that I had poorly performed the part assigned me if I should fail on this occasion to convey to you her continuous conviction of the justice of our cause and her firm belief that the conduct of herself and her sister States in this conflict needs neither defense nor apology. In this war the South contended for the sovereignty of States against Federal aggression and power. She fought for the great principle of home rule against outside, illegal interference. This great doctrine of home rule is the most precious of all rights possessed by mankind. For its maintenance more armies have been marshalled, more battle fought, more blood sacrificed, more treasure expended than all other causes combined for which man ever contended.

"The recent action of the Federal authorities in Washington, in sustaining and aiding the secession of Panama from the republic of Colombia in South America was a complete and thorough endorsement of the justice of the Southern secession movement. We are glad to receive in the course of time from this high source a thorough approval of the righteousness of our cause, though it may come a little belated. There are some who measure the justice and righteousness of a cause by whether it succeeds or fails, hence because the Southern secession movement failed it reecives their condemnation. But, sirs, those who would thus measure the justice of a cause by its success or failure little know history, or the great and profound truths and lessons which the annals of mankind disclose."

The governor closed with a touching tribute to Southern womanhood, which made the Davis memorial possible.

Governor Swanson was followed by Mayor McCarthy, of Richmond, who introduced General Evans as orator of the day.

The monument to Jefferson Davis is the crowning feature of Richmond's great monument events. It is the combined work of E. V. Valentine and William C. Noland, of Richmond. The memorial consists of a semi-circular colonnade terminating at each end in a square pier, with a large column or shaft rising from the inclosed space. The semi-circle is about fifty feet across, with a depth of thirty feet, and stands sixty-seven feet in total height. The monument typifies the vindication of Mr. Davis and the cause of the Confederacy for which he stood before the world, the leading inscription being "Deo vindico" "God Will Vindicate." The colonnade, composed of thirteen Doric columns, besides the two end piers rises about eighteen feet above the walkway and has its frieze decorated with bronze seals of the eleven States that seceded, and three others that sent representatives and troops. In the centre of the space enclosed by the colonnade stands a large doric column over five feet in diameter. This colmun forms a back ground for the bronze figure of Mr. Davis and also carries on its top an allegorical bronze figure, whose right hand points to heaven and whose title "vindicatrix" represents the whole spirit of the movement. The large column bears the seal of the Confederacy in bronze, and has the inscription: "Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederate States of America 1861-1865."

The bronze figure of Mr. Davis stands on a great block of granite in front of the column and about twelve feet above the roadway. The President is represented in a standing position as though addressing an audience with his right hand resting on the open book of history.

Around the molding is traced a noteworthy extract from Mr. Davis' farewell speech when he resigned from the United States Senate on the occasion of Mississippi:

"Not is hostility to others, not to injure any section of the country, not even for our own pecuniary benefit—but for the high and solemn motive of defending and protesting their rights we inherited, and which it is our duty to transmit unshown to our children."

On the points of the colonnade tand bronze tablets, one to the navy and one to the army of the Confederacy. The army tablet is inscribed "From Sumter to Appomattox, four years of unflinching struggle against overwhelming odds." The navy tablet is inscribed: "Giving new examples of heroism, teaching new methods of warfare, it carried the flag of the South to the most distance seas."

At the conclusion of this address the mayor spoke briefly accepting on behalf of Richmond the sacred trust imposed upon it by the whole South. Mrs. J. A. Hayes, of Colorado Springs, Col., daughter of Mr. Davis, then pulled gently the cord that held the canvas shroud which covered the bronze statue. Her two young sons, the grandsons of the Confederate President, caught the two cords to complete the unveiling. The moment was one of never-to-be-forgotten impressiveness. One moment of absolute silence and then cheering burst fourth, bands played, and the Richmond Howitzers began firing the Presidential salute.

The ceremonies were not ended with the unveiling, but the multitude could not be kept quiet for the remainder. The people forming the immediate circle around the monument heard played and sung a number of musical selections and saw garlands and tributes laid on the pedestal of the monument. Mrs. Norman V. Randolph, of Richmond, chairman of the central committee, Jefferson Davis Monument Association, made an address of welcome, to which a response was made by Mrs. William J. Behan, of Mississippi, president of the Confederate Southern Memorial Association. Mrs. George S. Holmes, of South Carolina, president of the Monument Association, made a report of the work done, and former Senator Carmack, of Tennessee, read a response that had been prepared by Mrs. Lizzie George Handerson, president general of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Garlands were then placed on the monument by the officers of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, Confederate States Memorial Association, United Confederate Veterans, United Sons of Confederate Veterans, and Jefferson Davis Monument Association. After the benediction by the chaplain general, floral tributes were offered by the public.

Several persons were injured in New York yesterday afternoon when a Long Island Railroad Train was derailed at the Belmont Park race track station when the forward trucks of the third car jumped the track and the car crashed into the platform. Men and women ran screaming from the entrance and tumbled out in heaps on the ground. Only the fact that the train was moving slowly at the time prevented many from being seriously injured.
